
The International Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Trans and Intersex Association – ILGA World and the International Service for Human Rights (ISHR) have compiled a series of factsheets highlighting the work that UN special procedures – independent human rights experts, appointed to monitor and report on human rights violations – have undertaken to defend the human rights of lesbian, gay, bisexual, trans and intersex (LGBTI) persons. The factsheets compile the references and recommendations made by these experts to LGBTI persons, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, and sex characteristics (SOGIESC). They cover all thematic reports, country visit reports, and communications sent to States between January 2011 and November 2020.

ANNUAL THEMATIC REPORTS

COVID-19

July 2020 (75th Session
General Assembly (GA))

Discusses the impact of the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) pandemic on the human rights of LGBT and gender-diverse persons, communities and/or populations; analyses the impact of the pandemic on social exclusion and violence and the interaction with institutional drivers of stigma and discrimination; analyses measures adopted in the context of the pandemic aimed at persecuting LGBT and gender-diverse persons or with indirect or unintended discriminatory effects and identifies good practice.

"Conversion therapies" practices
May 2020 (44th Session
Human Rights Council
(HRC))

Explores practices of so-called "conversion therapy" across the globe, including their impact on victims, their human rights implications and their connection with violence and discrimination based on sexual orientation and gender identity, as well as measures adopted to prevent them and to penalize or prosecute those who perform them and remedies provided to victims.

Socio-cultural and economic inclusion
July 2019 (74th Session
GA)

Examines how discriminatory laws and sociocultural norms continue to marginalize and exclude LGBT and gender-diverse persons from education, health care, housing, employment and occupation, and other sectors. Looks at the inclusion and access to these rights through the lens of intersectionality and analyses compounded discrimination, which leads to exclusion and marginalization. Discusses the ways in which an inclusive society and effective State measures enable people to enjoy protection from violence and discrimination and highlights the unique role of leaders in different fields, all of which will allow the cycle of exclusion to be broken and have a positive impact on the misconceptions, fears and prejudices that fuel violence and discrimination.

Data collection and management as a means to create heightened awareness of violence and discrimination based on sexual orientation and gender identity
May 2019 (41st Session
HRC)

Focuses on data collection and management as a means to create heightened awareness of violence and discrimination based on SOGI, identifies risks associated with data collection, use and storage, and highlights key human rights safeguards in that regard.

Violence and discrimination based on gender identity
July 2018 (73rd Session
GA)

Examines the process of abandoning the classification of certain forms of gender as a pathology and the full scope of the duty of the State to respect and promote respect of gender recognition as a component of identity. Also highlights some effective measures to ensure respect of gender identity and provides guidance to States on how to address violence and discrimination based on gender identity.

Violence and discrimination based on sexual orientation, and their root causes
June 2018 (38th Session
HRC)

Provides an overview of violence and discrimination based on SOGI. These acts extend from daily exclusion and discrimination to the most heinous acts, including torture and arbitrary killings. At their root lie the intent to punish the non-conformity of victims with preconceived notions of what should be their SOGI. Highlights how LGBT and gender non-conforming persons are affected differently by these acts and how intersecting factors have an impact on their vulnerability and on their risk of exclusion and marginalization. Examines the link between hate speech and hate crimes, and the role of the media in amplifying and disseminating messages that reinforce stigma and foster violence and discrimination. Also explores the root causes of violence and discrimination based on SOGI, including deeply entrenched stigma and prejudice reinforced by discriminatory laws and regulations that foster a climate where hate speech, violence and discrimination are condoned and perpetrated with impunity. Examines the impact of social prejudice and criminalization on the marginalization and exclusion of LGBT and gender non-conforming persons, and addresses the issue of the negation of violence and discrimination based on SOGI and the resulting data gap, highlighting positive examples of data-gathering and recent measures taken by States to address violence and discrimination based on SOGI, including steps to acknowledge responsibility as an essential element in the establishment of historical truth, the process of reparation and the reconstitution of the social fabric.

Embrace diversity and energize humanity
July 2017 (72nd Session GA)

Two of the various underpinnings introduced in the Independent Expert’s first report (A/HRC/35/36) are singled out for particular attention to help prevent and overcome violence and discrimination: namely, decriminalization of consensual same-sex relations and gender identity and expression, and effective anti-discrimination measures. The report includes an overview of country situations, as highlighted by various actors through submissions sent to the Independent Expert. The report calls for reform of the laws, policies and practices which criminalize consensual same-sex relations, as well as those relating to gender identity and its expression. Pending repeal of discriminatory laws, the preferred policy is to desist from applying such negative laws and policies. Effective anti-discrimination measures are also critically needed; they vary from laws to policies and other action in a comprehensive and human rights-responsive setting.

Diversity in humanity, humanity in diversity
June 2017 (35th Session HRC)

Offers a window through which to gauge the approach and methodology of the Independent Expert. There are key reflections responding to the mandate, particularly regarding the panorama of the situation, including the implementation of international instruments, with identification of good practices and gaps; awareness of the violence and discrimination issue, and linkage with root causes; dialogue, consultation and cooperation with States and other stakeholders; the identification of multiple, intersecting and aggravated forms of violence and discrimination; and support for international cooperation and related services to assist national efforts.

Various underpinnings are singled out for specific attention to help prevent and overcome negative elements fuelling violence and discrimination, and these will be dealt with in greater detail in future reports: namely, decriminalization of consensual same-sex relations; effective anti-discrimination measures; legal recognition of gender identity; destigmatization linked with depathologization; sociocultural inclusion; and promotion of education and empathy.

The report is anchored on the belief that while the diversity among human beings on the basis of SOGI should be recognized (“diversity in humanity”), it is essential to harness and reinforce, from a young age, mutual respect, tolerance and understanding, compliance with human rights, and a sense of humanity and inclusivity inherent in that diversity (“humanity in diversity”), to accord protection for all and to all.
